

ASX ANNOUNCEMENT
12 FEBRUARY 2010

WHITE CANYON URANIUM TO COMMENCE TRADING ON THE TORONTO STOCK (VENTURE) EXCHANGE
TSX-V CODE: WU ASX CODE: WCU

- White Canyon Uranium has been invited to list on the TSX-V
- The company will commence trading on the TSX-V on 12 February 2010 under the symbol WU
- TSX-V listing will provide access to important additional capital markets in North America.

US-focussed uranium producer White Canyon Uranium Limited (ASX: WCU, TSX: WU) (“White Canyon” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce that its application to list on the Toronto Stock (Venture Exchange) (“TSX-V”) has been accepted. The Company will commence trading on the TSX-V on 12 February 2010 under the symbol WU.

White Canyon’s ordinary shares will continue to be listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (“ASX”). Shareholders can trade their shares on the ASX as they did prior to the TSX-V listing. However shareholders intending to trade on the TSX-V will need to transfer their shares onto the Canadian share registry and establish an account with an appropriate stock broker prior to trading on the TSX-V. The company and their share registrars (Computershare *) can provide further details on such procedures to interested shareholders. Canaccord Capital Inc. acted as sponsor for the Company in respect of the listing application.

White Canyon Managing Director, Mr Peter Batten, said “Listing on the TSX-V will not only provide White Canyon with increased access to the larger North American capital markets, but we expect that this listing will also further raise the profile of the Company within the global investment community”. “The Canadian and US markets have a close understanding of uranium and an enthusiasm to invest in uranium production, particularly uranium production in North America”.

The listing on the TSX-V was a compliance listing only and no fundraising was associated with the process.
